

A blank T-chart graphic organizer. It consists of a vertical line and a horizontal line intersecting at the center. The vertical line extends from the top of the page to the bottom, and the horizontal line extends from the left margin to the right margin. This creates two columns and two rows, with the intersection point in the center.